1. Privilege Leave: The Company provides paid Privilege Leave (PL) as a meaningful break to renew one's health physically and mentally so as to maintain the morale and efficiency of employees. While the Company encourages employees to use Privilege Leave, the leave must be pre-approved by the sanctioning authority. Minimum 7 days prior intimation required for approval from manager.

2. Sick Leave: The Company allows Sick Leave for health reasons and the need to recuperate.
   All employees of the Company are entitled to Sick Leaves to cover emergency /unforeseen circumstances or ill health. If an employee has been injured while on duty, the Company shall grant him/her leave for the full duration of the treatment, till the Medical Practitioner declares such employee medically fit for resuming duties.

   In accordance with the attendance policy, it is the employee's responsibility to provide the Manager with a Registered Doctor's certificate of illness that includes an expected return-to-work date in case of an absence of more than 1 day. The Manager, at his/her discretion, can also request the Employee to provide a "Fitness to Work" certificate from the consulting Doctor. Employees unable to return to work on the date indicated on the physician's statement must furnish additional medical evidence to their manager with a revised return-to-work date.

3. Casual Leave: The Company allows Casual Leave under certain conditions to meet personal, domestic, social necessities.
   Casual Leave is a benefit and is subject to exigencies of work and Company's interest. Minimum 7 days prior intimation required for approval from manager.

4. Maternity Leave: All female Employees of the Company are entitled to Maternity Leaves. All female Employees will be granted up to 12 weeks of maternity leave as provided by law.

5. Marital Leave: All employees of the Company are eligible for marital leave upon their wedding. Employees may be granted up to 10 days of marital leave, which can be taken consecutively or as per operational convenience, subject to prior approval from their reporting manager. Any additional leave beyond 10 days will be adjusted against annual or casual leave. Employees are required to provide appropriate proof, such as a wedding invitation or marriage certificate, to avail of this leave.

6. Paternity Leave: All male employees will be entitled to paternity leave up to 7 working days which is to be availed within 1 month on attaining fatherhood. This benefit shall also be available in the case of adopted child.

7. Compensatory Off: An Employee is entitled to compensatory off if he/she has worked during a designated holiday or weekly off. Compensatory Off shall be valid only within the month in which it is accrued and must be utilized within the same month. It will not be carried forward to the next month under any circumstances.
   It shall not be adjusted against any other category of leave and will neither be eligible for encashment nor for carry forward.
   In case the employee has worked on a designated holiday or weekly off towards the end of the month and is unable to avail the Comp Off within the same month due to month closure, such Comp Off shall be eligible for encashment, subject to approval by the management.
   Encashment of Comp Off shall be permitted only in exceptional cases where a Comp Off request has been duly applied by the employee but is declined by the Company, subject to mutual agreement between the employee and the management.

8. UNAUTHORISED LEAVE / ABSCONDING FROM WORK: Employees are expected to be regular and avoid unscheduled absences (except in case of illness).

   1. If an employee continues to be absent beyond 48 hours without any information, the Immediate Reporting Manager and HR Department should be kept informed of the same immediately.

   2. If an employee is absent from duty continuously for more than 7 days without any information (including any National / Festival / Declared / weekly off days which may fall in-between), a communication will be sent to the employee's last known address advising him/her to report to duty forthwith and to provide a written explanation for his/her absence.
      Based on explanation management. And enquiry, any action deemed fit will/would be taken by the management.
      If there is no response from the employee within the stipulated time mentioned in official correspondence, it would be assumed that the employee has voluntarily abandoned his/her service from the Company on his/her own accord and employment determined accordingly. Long absenteeism from work or leave in excess of entitlement i.e. leave without pay shall be treated as misconduct and the employee shall be liable to punishment in accordance with the rules of the Company and / or Law.

9. Sandwich Leave Rule:

As per this rule, if an employee is absent on both sides of a weekly off (Sunday) or any declared holiday, the intervening weekly off/holiday will also be counted as leave.

For example, if an employee takes leave on Saturday and Monday, Sunday will also be considered as leave. Similarly, if a holiday falls between two leave days, that holiday will also be treated as leave.

All employees are required to ensure their presence either one working day before or after their leave. In case of absence on both sides without prior approval, the sandwich rule will be applicable, and leave will be deducted accordingly.

Employees are advised to plan their leave accordingly to avoid any inconvenience.

10. Leave Encashment:

Leave encashment is applicable only to employees who complete one full year of service within the financial year. Employees who join at the beginning of the financial year will be eligible after completing one year, while those who join mid-year will not be eligible for leave encashment for that financial year.
